

PUBLIC NOTICE

(first provided October 5, 2022):

High Banks Wind, LLC intends to construct and operate a wind energy generation project in Republic County, Kansas. Related to that project, High Banks has proposed a set of four agreements to the County. The County Commission is willing to consider the proposal.

The four proposed agreements are available on the main page of the County's public website: www.republiccounty.org. The public library is available if assistance is needed to access, view, or print the proposed agreements. A map of the proposed High Banks project boundaries in the County will be available in the courthouse in the County Commission meeting room.

The four proposed agreements reflect the entire High Banks proposal that the County Commission will consider at this time. If you want further information about the High Banks proposed project, please contact High Banks directly: local office located within Kallman Office Suites in Belleville across from the courthouse, office hours 9 am – 3 pm Monday/Wednesday/Friday; phone 682-229-4509; email: HighBanksWind.SharedMailbox@nexteraenergy.com. Information shared by others might not be accurate or current.

The Commission will discuss the proposal at its regular meeting on Monday, October 24th. The agenda item will not include public comment. The Commission for many months has received public input, and will continue to be open to public input in advance of Commission discussion of the proposal.
